Presentation Outline:

• What are the Marshall, Mitchell, and Rhodes Scholarships?
• Eligibility
• Application components & essay prompts
• Campus Endorsement Process
• Next steps
Common Myths:

- Provides a “gap” year and/or a chance to “figure out” what you want to do next
- You need a perfect GPA and....
- You must have done a thousand things while in College
- You must be seeking a PhD; you must be interested in only certain career paths (federal service, policy, etc.)
- Strictly merit based
- Preference for certain fields of study
- Study abroad (or a chance to go back to the UK or Ireland)
- It’s easy to get admitted into international graduate programs; they are less meritorious than US graduate programs
Common Truths:

- Funds 1 (Mitchell) or 2 (Rhodes, Marshall) years of intensive graduate study in the UK or Ireland
- To be eligible, candidates must meet both the basic- and mission-driven eligibility
- Expects candidates to have substantive evidence of academic excellence (research, advanced coursework), leadership and/or public service, experiences that originate with academic commitments
- Open to all disciplines
- Expect candidates to be seeking degrees from program/institutions that are an ideal fit (not just Oxford for Oxford’s sake)
- Are futurist
- Expect candidates to have a driving mission, motivation, and vision for the future and how they are going to make meaningful, lasting change globally
Marshall Scholarships

- Marshall Scholarships support US citizens of high ability for a two-year+ post-graduate degree experience in the United Kingdom.
- Up to 48 Scholars are selected each year to study at graduate level at any UK institution, including Northern Ireland, in any field of study, fully funded for two years+.
- Degrees can be taken at two different institutions.*
- As future leaders, with a lasting understanding of British society, Marshall Scholars strengthen the enduring relationship between the British and American citizens, their governments and their institutions.
- Preference given to candidates not applying to Oxford, Cambridge, Kings, University College London (UCL), LSE.
- Program website: http://www.marshallscholarship.org/
- UChicago Marshall Scholars listed here: https://www.uchicago.edu/about/accolades/marshall_scholars/
Mitchell Scholarships

• The Mitchell Scholars Program, named in honor of former US Senator George Mitchell's pivotal contribution to the Northern Ireland peace process; originally conceived of as a peace and reconciliation program; now open to all disciplines but with the expectation that Mitchell Scholars are committed to broader, public service concerns (national, international).

• Designed to introduce and connect generations of future American leaders to Ireland, while recognizing and fostering intellectual achievement, leadership, and a commitment to community and public service.

• Up to 12 US citizens to undertake a fully-funded one-year master’s program in Ireland.

Rhodes Scholarship

• Rhodes Scholars are chosen not only for their outstanding scholarly achievements, but for their character, commitment to others and to the common good, and for their potential for leadership in whatever domains their careers may lead.

• The Rhodes Trust provides full financial support for 32 US Rhodes Scholars to pursue a postgraduate degree or degrees at the University of Oxford and a number of international Rhodes Scholarships, including the Global Rhodes.

• Students from a range of countries besides the United States are also eligible to apply for the Rhodes Scholarship - please visit the Rhodes House site for an up-to-date list of eligible countries.

Basic Criterion (all three programs):

- Be a third- or fourth-year in the College; or recent alumni (age restrictions apply)
- Demonstrate a high esteem for scholarship: evidenced by high academic achievement (3.7+ cumulative GPA)*, research or other scholarly activities that provide a case for success in chosen graduate degree program;
- Evidence of significant leadership and future leadership potential;
- Evidence of commitment to civic engagement through significant co- and extra-curricular (off-campus) involvement, public service, activities that prove you are ambitious for others;
- Able to present a compelling and well-constructed case for their academic program of choice in the UK;
- Able to articulate their personal goals and a clear vision for their academic and professional future, as well as how they will be a “change agent” or “fight the world’s fight”; evidence of agency and an understanding of power structures
- Be able to secure three to eight in-depth letters of recommendation*
Mission Driven Criterion

• British Marshall: seeks candidates who exhibit academic preparation, leadership and ambassadorial potential. Assessment questions include: Has the applicant demonstrated courage of conviction, persistence, and determination in the pursuit of his or her goals? Is there evidence of a strong desire to contribute to society?

• Mitchell Scholarship: Applicants are judged on three criteria: scholarship, leadership, and a sustained commitment to community and public service.

• Rhodes Trust: Proven intellectual and academic achievement of a high standard is the first quality required of applicants, but applicants will also be required to show integrity of character, interest in and respect for their fellow beings, the ability to lead, and the energy to use their talents to the full.
The four “A”s of the MMR:

A cademic excellence

A ltruism (ambition for others)

A gency (you have set your course; turned challenge into opportunity)

A vision for a better future (for all)
UChicago Campus Endorsement
Application Components

- Online application (will open at the end of WNTR Quarter)
- Academic Curriculum Vitae (2+ pages) – please do not submit a one-page resume
- Three letters of recommendation submitted by the May 17, 2021 campus deadline;
- The names of five additional recommenders;
- Short essays: leadership; meaningful service; needs of society you wish to address; case for postgraduate program(s) of choice; relevant course-work; post-scholarship plan; proposed vocational/future plans
- Motivation statement: 750 words (maximum)
- Unofficial transcript (3.7 overall GPA by May 17, 2021)* This is not negotiable.
- Faculty endorsement committee interview (end of May)

You only complete ONE campus endorsement application and interview; institution endorsement is for 1-all 3 awards.
Letters of Recommendation

- Campus Endorsement: 3 total letters
  - 2 academic letters (faculty only); 1 who can testify to your leadership through service, etc.

- Marshall: 3 total letters; 2 should be academic; 1 who can testify to your leadership, service and/or ambition for others

- Mitchell: 4 total letters; at least 2 should be academic; 2 should testify to your leadership, service and/or professional training*

- Rhodes: 8 total letters; 5 should be academic; 3 should testify to your leadership, service and/or ambition for others (character)

- Academic letters = from teaching or research faculty (any rank/any institution); no post-docs or graduate students. No letters from advisors of any type (career, academic, etc.), peers, or professionals who do not know you well.
Short essays (8):

1) Describe one specific example of leadership (350 words max.)

As it relates to your specific example, we want to see the following:

a) Delivery of results: can you actually tell us what has changed as you became involved in something?

b) Strength of purpose: can you show us that you took something from start to finish? Can you demonstrate that your leadership connects to your overall sense of purpose and plans for the future? Does it reinforce your broader commitments and the career you want to undertake (illustrates potential for future leadership in your field).

c) Creativity and problem solving: can you come at a problem or issues from a different angle or approach? And, can you show us why this approach was necessary? What have you changed?

d) Self-awareness: how are your leadership styles different? How have you evolved as a leader? How does this impact others, enable others? How does this enable you to convince others to come along with you?
2) Describe a recent, particularly satisfying public service activity. Or, if you have focused your efforts on research, please describe a particularly satisfying broader impact experience you have had (either in your research or in public science education, tutoring, etc.). (350 words max).

Do you have ambition for others?
3) Describe the problem or needs of society (domestic or global) you want to address once you have finished your formal graduate training. (350 words max)

What hurts you about the world and why?
What you going to end?
4) List the 3 most significant courses you have taken in preparation for your proposed graduate study and future career. (150 words max.)

Are you academically prepared for graduate study and your proposed career?

5) Describe the top-choice graduate program in the UK, Ireland or at Oxford, if you receive a Marshall, Mitchell or Rhodes scholarship. (250 words max.)

Do you have a case for your chosen program and why you need to be in either the UK or Ireland?
6) What do you hope to do and what position/role do you hope to have upon completing your studies in the UK or Ireland? (3-5 year post-scholarship plan; 150 words max.)

7) What do you hope to do and what position/role do you hope to have 7-10 years later? (150 words max.)

Do you have a specific vision and plan for your future? How are you going to fight the world’s fight? What are you going to end?
8) Additional information.
Is there anything you would like the committee to know that is not anywhere else in your application? (350 words max.)
Motivation statement:
A 750-word narrative that clearly articulates your motivations as they relate to the needs of society you wish to address. You should be able to “show not tell” the ways you have started toward this effort – through your academic training, leadership, service, and professional activities as relevant. This is not a narrative CV.

What gets you out of bed in the morning? What keeps you awake at night?
How have you turned challenge into opportunity?
Are you impatient with the way things are in the world and willing to spend your energies changing those things?
UChicago Campus Endorsement Process & Timeline

- Campus nomination deadline: May 17, 2021
Reality Check (our expectations)

- This process will take ~50-60 hours of your time between today and the final national deadlines in late September - early October.
- If endorsed, we will expect you to make these applications among your highest priorities over the summer. You can be stripped of your nomination at any point.
- It will not be easy, but we believe the self-reflection, writing, and communication skills gained are (so) worthwhile and will contribute to other efforts (other fellowships, graduate school applications, etc.).

What you can expect from CCRF

- We will be with you through the entire process – thinking with you, supporting your writing and helping you to communicate your ideas as best you can.
Next Steps

• Register for the 2021 MMR Cohort: https://ccrf.uchicago.edu/content/marshall-mitchell-and-rhodes-cohort-sign

• Register for the next required workshops in the application process series (registration opens in January 2021):
  • Short answer and motivation statement overview session
  • Writing workshops (short essays and motivation statement)
  • Campus interview preparation workshop
  • Individual advising appointments are only available to members of the 2021 cohort who have participated in all the required workshops. Each campus applicant is required to have 1 draft review advising appointment before submitting.

• Begin to think about who will write your letters of recommendation

• Start researching your ideal programs (if you haven’t started already)

• Mark May 17, 2021 on your calendar. Anything submitted after the deadline, including letters, will not be accepted.
